

2019 Reading Challenge

- Read a book with a one word title
- Read a book with a five word title
- Read a self-help/self-improvement book
- Read a book by a Canadian author of colour
- Read a classic children's novel
- Read a book about war (fiction or non-fiction)
- Read a book set in South America
- Read a book that has won an international award
- Read a debut novel
- Read a book by two authors
- Read a novel with an ugly cover
- Read a book from the Reading Nova Scotia list
- Read a book published posthumously
- Read a book by your favourite author
- Read a book recommended by a friend/family member
- Read a book that was nominated, but didn't win, Canada Reads
- Read a book of dystopian fiction
- Read a book you meant to read in 2018, but didn't get to
- Read a book published by an independent publisher
- Read a book whose cover is your favourite colour
- Read a book involving a train trip
- Read a novel based on a real person
- Read a mystery novel that has a cat in it task created by Jeanette in Greenfield
- Read a book by an author you've never read before task created by Barbara in Brideewater

Don't forget to share your progress on social media!
Use #SSPLReads2019 and find us: